APPELLANT'S BRIEF ON APPEAL

AND APPENDIX

DEO VOLENTE:

Comes now Dexter Ferguson the Appellant above named, proceeding Pro. Se., being unlearned in law; and presently incarcerated in the U.S. Penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., herein appeal to this honorable Court from the Judgment and Order of the U.S.D.C., for the E.D.N.Y., denying the Appellant's Post Conviction motion to vacate sentence and allow the Appellant to plea anew.

STATEMENT

The statement of the case is fully outlined in the order of the Hon.,

Judge Travia and will not be repeated for sake of brifity, but it should be noted that the Appellant still maintains that had he been told about the Special Parole provision, that would not begin until the experation of whatever sentence the Court chose to impose upon the Appellant, the Appellant would not have entered a plea of guilty. Assuch the Appellant was severelly prejudiced by not being advised by the trial Court of the consequences of his plea.

ISSUES ON APPEAL

WHERE THE TRIAL COURT FAILS TO COMPLY WITH THE FUNDAMENTAL REQUIREMENTS OF DUE PROCESS OF IAW TO THE PREJUDICE OF THE ACCUSED IS THE ACCUSED ENTITLED TO HAVE SAID PLEA OF GUILTY VACATED AND GIVEN THE RIGHT TO PLEA ANEW?

ARGUMENT

The Appellant moved to cause his plea of guilty to be vacated, setaside and held for naught, due to the fact that the trial Court failed to apprise the Appellant of the consequences of his plea inviolation of Rule 11. F.R.Cr.P., citing Roberts V. U.S. 491 F2d 1236 (3rd Cir. 1974)

PAGINATION AS IN ORIGINAL COPY

The trial Court denied said motion, and in its order assumes that the Appellant had knowledge of the consequences of his plea, because he was sitting in the Court Room when his brother was so advised as to the consequences of his plea to a like indictment, and also due to the fact that Appellant was an ex-policeman. Both of these arguments must fall on deaf ears because Rule 11, F.R.Cr.P., require that the Defendant be addressed personally and not by proxie.

The U.S. Supreme Court has held in McCarthy Vs. U.S. 89 S.Ct. 1166 that failure to comply with rule 11, F.R.Cr.P., are grounds for reversal of the conviction. In the Case of Giordano, S.Ct. Reperter Vol 94 1820, U.S.
Vs. Giordano, the United States Supreme Court held that failure of the Appellee to comply with the law as stated in T. 18 Sec 2516, were grounds to cause all wiretap evidence to be quashed. We See that the position of the U.S. Supreme Court is that all statutory requirements must be complied with according to how they are written.

The trial Court makes another assumption which again must fall on deaf ears, the trial court states The Court is of the opinion that while the Petitioner's plea transcript does not indicate that the Petitioner was advised of the mandatory special parole term, the Court did so advise the Petitioner and the Court Reporter may have failed to transcribe that portion of the Rule 11, inquiry"

The Court Reporter is a member of the Court, and the trial Court must take judicial cognizance of its comm records, it's a fundamental principle of law.

The only valid argument which appears in the trial Courts order, in the opinion of the Appellant, is the fact that this circuit has not yet ruled upon the issue herein presented, and considered by the Third Circuit in Roberts Vs. U.S. Supra. But in view of the U.S. Supreme Court's unwaivering stance to enforce the law as written this Appellant cannot conceive that this circuit would attempt to create an Ad Hoc determination of the law. The laws are made inorder that we have an orderly system of deing things within the frame work of the U.S. Constitution, and when the laws are not complied with each person must suffer accordingly for his or her transgression of the law.

In the instant matter the trial Judge failed to comply with rule 11 F.R.Cr.P., as such he must suffer the stigma of having his judgment overruled.

wherefore the reasons forgone stated the Appellant moves the Honorable Court to cause the order of the trial Court denying the Appellant the relief he seeks be and the same reversed thereby vacating the sentence and judgment and allowing the Apellant to plea anew.

For Such An Order The Appellant Shall Ever Pray:

Respectfully Submitted

Dexter Ferguson, Appellant Pro. Se.

U. S. DIST YOU COURT E.D. N.Y

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT EASTERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

NOV 6 - 1974

TIME A.M.....

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA ex rel. DEXTER FERGUSON,

M'FILMED 74-C-1055

Petitioner.

DECISION AND ORDER

-against-

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

November 6, 1974

Respondent.

TRAVIA, D. J.

The petitioner was charged in indictment number 73-CR-118 with importing marijuana, conspiring to import marijuana, distributing marijuana and possessing marijuana with intent to distribute. On April 2, 1973, the petitioner pleaded guilty to counts eight and ten of indictment number 73-CR-118. Subsequent thereto, on June 15, 1973, the petitioner was sentenced to a term of five years in prison plus a special parole term of five years on count eight of indictment number 73-CR-118. Similarly, on count ten of indictment number 73-CR-118, the petitioner was sentenced to a term of one year in prison plus a special parole term of two years to run consecutively to the sentence imposed on count eight.

The petitioner now moves to vacate and set aside

his judgment of conviction and sentence pursuant to Title 28
U.S.C. § 2255 on the ground that the court failed to apprise him at the time of his plea that he would be subject to a special parole term upon the expiration of any term of imprisonment imposed by the court.

Rule 11, Fed. R. Crim. P. provides in pertinent part:

"The court may refuse to accept a plea of guilty, and shall not accept such a plea . . . without first addressing the defendant personally and determining that the plea is made voluntarily with understanding of the nature of the charge and the consequences of the plea." (Emphasis added).

The term "consequences" has been interpreted by the Court of Appeals for this Circuit to include the maximum possible senterce and the unavailability of parole. See Jones v. United States, 440 F.2d 466 (2d Cir. 1971); Bye v. United States, 435 F.2d 177 (2d Cir. 1970). However, the Second Circuit has not yet passed upon the question of whether the mandatory minimum special parole term is one of the "consequences" envisioned by Rule 11. But see United States v. Richardson, 483 F.2d 516 (8th Cir. 1973); Roberts v. United States, 491 F.2d 1236 (3d Cir. 1974). Nevertheless, even assuming arguendo that the mandatory minimum special parole term is a "consequence" within the meaning of Rule 11, the circumstances attendant to the petitioner's guilty plea require the denial of the instant motion.

On April 2, 1973, the court also accepted the plea of the petitioner's brother, Arthur Ferguson. During the colloquy between the court and Arthur Ferguson, the court advised him that if he was sentenced to a term of imprisonment, the court would be obligated to impose a minimum special parole term of two years. See Plea Transcript of Arthur Ferguson at 22. Since the petitioner was in the courtroom at the time of his brother's plea, some fifteen minutes prior to the proffering of his own plea, it is highly likely that the petitioner heard the court's statement on special parole. In addition, it is important to note that the petitioner is an ex-policeman who was represented by competent counsel at the time of his plea. As a result, it is difficult to believe that the petitioner was not aware of the mandatory special parole term. Moreover, the court is of the opinion that while the petitioner's plea transcript does not indicate that the petitioner was advised of the mandatory special parole term, the court did so advise the petitioner and the court reporter may have failed to transcribe that portion of the Rule 11 inquiry.

Accordingly, it is ORDERED that the petitioner's motion to set aside his judgment of conviction and sentence is denied.

FPI-88-3-17-72-30M-9153

The Clerk of the Court is directed to send a copy of this Decision and Order to the petitioner.

Defendants.

TRAVIA, D. J.

By motion dated October 11, 1973, made by the attorney for the defendants named herein, the defendants seek a reduction of sentence imposed by this court on June 15, 1973. The motion of the defendants supported by an affirmation made by the said attorney, Barry Krinsky, was heard on the 26th day of October 1973. At that time the court directed the attorney to submit affidavits rather than permit the production of witnesses on a hearing of the people who would so testify. The said attorney has since submitted to this court the affidavit of Dr. Carlos Huerta, sworn to on October 31, 1973; the affidavit of Pastor Edwin J. Humphrey, sworn to on October 31, 1973; the affidavit of Robert Reed, sworn to on October 31, 1973; the affidavit of Elder T.X. Perry, sworn to on November 1, 1973; the affidavit of Elder T.X. Perry, sworn to

to on October 31, 1973; the affidavit of Donald E. Brown, sworn to on November 1, 1973; the affidavit of Peter T. McGalliaria, sworn to on October 31, 1973 and a letter signed by one William Richardson on the letterhead of McDonald's, dated October 19, 1973.

This case is a multi-defendant case involving importation, a Schedule I controlled substance, in violation of Title 21 of the United States Code section 952(a) and 960(a)(1) and Title 18 of the United States Code section 2. There are thirteen defendants including the defendants named herein. This court is thoroughly familiar with all the facts and circumstances surrounding this case since, except for the defendants named in the indictment who are fugitives, they have been before the court for sentencing based upon pleas of guilty and during the course of such proceedings have become familiar with the facts and sentences surrounding this case. The defendants named herein were each represented by an attorney other than the attorney who is now appearing on behalf of both defendants. At the time of sentence the court had before it not only all of the information concerning this case but a number of letters which were sent in by people interested in these defendants, including all the people who are presently submitting affidavits with the exception of Mr. Brown and Mr.

Petersen referred to herein.

The court has nevertheless taken into consideration the arguments of counsel and the representative of the government, has thoroughly reviewed the entire file in this case, its presentence file with all its contents and the affidavits submitted as heretofore referred to and concludes that there is no valid basis for the court to modify the sentences imposed in any way.

Accordingly it is ORDERED that the applications of the defendants be and the same are denied.

. The Clerk of the Court is directed to send a copy of this Decision and Order to the defendants.
